ALMA MATER

U. of Illinois

Adapted by C. D. Kearns

Hail to the Gold, Hail to the Blue, Hail Alma Mater

Ever so true. We love no other, So let our motto be Loy - al - ty, Penn High School — Vic - tor - y!

The musical score is written in B-flat major (two flats) and 4/4 time. It consists of a vocal melody and a piano accompaniment. The piano part features a steady eighth-note bass line in the left hand and chords in the right hand. The lyrics are: "Hail to the Gold, Hail to the Blue, Hail Alma Mater", "Ever so true. We love no other, So let our motto be", and "Loy - al - ty, Penn High School — Vic - tor - y!". There are double bar lines with repeat marks (//) above the first and second staves of the piano accompaniment.

IN CLASSES

... We had the time of our lives helping each other over tough spots ... receiving satisfaction from learning things well ... looking for the most enjoyable part of each subject.

OUR SUPERINTENDENT . . .

Dr. Hartman can at any time be consulted about individual problems or activities of the school. Although our superintendent is kept busy with the administrative problems of our schools, he takes an active interest in athletics. We shall long remember the thoughts that he has left with us in his talks, especially some from his favorite poems.

Graduates of 1952:

Accept my heartiest congratulations upon your well-merited attainment. As you climb the ladder of life, this is another rung toward the goal of success. There are many rungs in the ladder of life. Success is your ultimate destination. As you continue your journey you must realize that you can reach success only by way of certain highways.

Pause as you journey to look into the lives of great men, and you will find that they dared to do and to say the right thing against overwhelming odds. It takes courage to invite hardships in upholding what is right and honorable. But the young man or young woman who chooses the path which requires no daring chooses a shortcut to failure.

In everyday life dare to do and to speak out when you know you are right. Dare to make your speech clean. Dare to observe good conduct. If you continue at school, dare to stick to the rules, even if others do not. You may be their teacher. At work, dare to be conscientious in your duties, even if others laugh. In the end they may take orders from you. Daring in small things will lead you to daring in big things. Always say, "I dare do!" and fortune will smile upon you. May the future grant you opportunity and the fulfillment of your hopes and ambitions as you climb the ladder to success.

Sincerely yours,
JOSEPH A. HARTMAN
Superintendent of Schools

. . . AND PRINCIPAL

Problems of scheduling, attendance, and discipline are brought to Mr. Stewart by the students who stream to his desk. Our principal has the permanent records of all Penn High students in his office, but in his memory alone he knows not only each of our names and faces but also our good points and shortcomings.

ARTHUR R. STEWART

B.S., Grove City College
M.A., Columbia University

Class of 1952:

The second semester of your senior year is drawing to a close. The magazine sale and the senior class play are history. Eyes are beginning to look forward to graduation. After graduation, what?

This is a presidential election year. The national conventions will be held in June to select candidates. You will read about, hear on the radio, and even see by television some of the participants in this campaign. This event happens every four years in our great democracy. All parties will make flowery promises. After the election it will be "to the victor belong the spoils."

Should our country try to control the whole world? Should we have universal military training? Should gambling, drinking, and other evils go unchecked? These are problems that you will face in the near future. The best guide is the Holy Bible. The Ten Commandments plus love will make a better world.

May the Class of 1952 do its part to improve humanity.

Sincerely yours,
ARTHUR R. STEWART
High School Principal

THE TIME OF OUR LIVES

On September 7, 1948, scurrying freshmen from Greenville and the surrounding townships entered the halls of Penn High School and sought refuge in rooms 201, 202, 208, and 211. These newcomers were so ignored and shunned by the aristocratic upper classes that they decided upon a course of studying. This new way of life presented several difficulties, which were known by various names such as algebra and Latin. Most of the students enjoyed reading and studying immensely and followed the new doctrine, "Work and drudgery lead the way to getting all A's on report card day." Yet, while the bookworms chewed and swallowed, dissension grew. When the bookworms had gnawed a tunnel through several books, the dissenters crawled through the tunnel and staged a revolt. The old society was overthrown, and a new order was established and dedicated to the proposition that all schools are created for the furtherance of extra-curricular activities.

The first activity in the four-year plan of this new regime was a class party. For the entertainment, the social planners began a search for talent within the class. So it was that Betty Keck and Nancy Hittle sang "Silver Threads among the Gold," and Mike Driscoll mastered the ceremonies. All went well until the time came to dance. Then it became apparent that all freshmen were divided into two parts, the first of which were boys who for the most part didn't want to dance. But as the older and wiser minds knew, this phase would pass. Even in their first year various freshmen made contributions in band, debate, cheerleading, wrestling, and other activities.

Then, just as the leaves were transformed when the seasons changed, so were the greenhorn freshmen transformed into brown-nosed sophomores. Some students had so enjoyed translating "discipuli picturam spectate" that they resolved to organize a Latin Club. Thus, the first club of its kind in Penn High School was chartered in 1950 by these sophomores. In the science of biology they caused the following comment to be made by their teacher, "I wouldn't let you operate on me that way!" Members of the class participated in all of the varsity sports for the first time that year. A highlight of the year for the sophomore band members was a journey to Pittsburgh to perform at Forbes Field. At the sophomore class party each and every person demonstrated his peculiar talents by fulfilling some strange request written on a little slip of paper by an unknown gremlin. Refreshments and another attempt at dancing highlighted the rest of the evening.

"FOG ISLAND"

"Far Beyond the Sea"

After coasting along in a merry state of anarchy for two years, the decision was made to end all this laxity and to organize. It was decided to form a type of democratic regime called the Junior Class with Ronald Hyde, president; Betty Keck, vice president; Gordon McClimans, secretary; and Nancy Hoobler, treasurer; as the elected administrators of the commoners' desires. As a sort of precautionary measure Miss Roberta Elder, a brand-new Spanish teacher, was given the position of adviser. Now the individual class members embarked upon a year of a little bit of typing, a little bit of physics, a little bit of commercial subjects, but in general as little as possible of the curriculum. In the extra-curricular column, however, they ran hog-wild. They joined all kinds of organizations from the Projection Crew to the National Honor Society.

Then the time came to order class rings. After the juniors had spent most of their own money, they decided to sell Christmas cards to raise some for their class. Being ambitious and energetic, they had no sooner finished the card sale than a magazine sale was started. When the smoke of battle had cleared, Carol Black, Pat Huntley, and Jack Hanes had won prizes, and the class was left chuckling over its supply of sheckles. At the class party in January the entertainment consisted of impromptu skits, something like charades but not very much like anything ever before seen.

As was customary, this class of juniors was called upon to produce a play as a class project. As was not customary, they presented an exciting drama of spine-tingling suspense under the direction of Mr. Sherwood. In contrast to the usual three-act farces, the plot of "Fog Island" consisted of the adventures of a group of girls and their teacher, Lillian Frohlic, who became marooned on a lonely island. Also on the fog-bound isle were desperate spies, Jack Goodreds, Bud Caldwell, and Marjorie Beardsley, who were holding the noted nuclear physicist, Ronald Amalong, until he would reveal some important atomic secrets.

To display their dancing skill, acquired and perfected by the hard-knock method, the juniors staged a prom for themselves and the upperclassmen. In preparation for the big event dates were made, broken, re-made, re-broken, and so on. The prom committee contracted Johnnie Martin's orchestra and selected "Far Beyond the Sea" for the prom theme. Amidst the sea horses, fishes, and sunken pirate gold in the Greenville Recreation Center, fair ladies and gallant gentlemen enjoyed a preliminary three hours of dancing. Then, with a party at the Country Club and the family car under his belt, Junior set out to see the world. Just a week later the Hi-Y sponsored the Spring Formal with music by the Swing Band. Fortunately Junior and his friends had returned to attend. Thus ended another exciting year of school.

At the beginning of the 1951-52 school term a serious problem arose. During the summer the Greenville School District had been dissolved, and the Greenville Area Joint Consolidated Schools had taken its place. This disturbed the seniors considerably, and they could hardly appreciate the band's bright new uniforms at the first football game. Gradually, however, everyone adapted himself to the change and started to enjoy the time of his life under the direction of the following timekeepers: Dick Cline, president; Archie Wallace, vice president; Sally Peters, secretary; Nancy Hoobler, treasurer; and Mrs. Linn, adviser.

The first project of the year was the presentation of the popular play, "Meet Me in St. Louis," directed by Miss Schumann. The cast acted their parts so well that honor, mixed with a bucket of water, lay all over the stage. The magazine sale started by the class seemed doomed to only mediocre success until the year-book staff threatened to put the pictures of the entire senior class on one page and to use cardboard covers. Then the fur flew, and the doorbells rang, and the class treasury began to resemble Fort Knox. "Digger" Amalong, the most successful prospector, laid claim to a wrist watch, and Sally Peters was awarded a radio for her contribution to the mountain of gold. At the senior class party there was not only round and square dancing but also a demonstration of the "Charleston" by Miss Marini.

This year the annual Homecoming game and dance were preceded by a parade of many novel and unusual floats made by the clubs of our school. The Homecoming Queen, Eleanor McGough, and her attendants, Betty Keck and Pat Snyder, reigned throughout the festivities.

"MEET ME IN ST. LOUIS"

Now the tempo of school life began to increase. Just like a roller coaster it started to pick up speed. Senior pictures were taken and exchanged, and class dues were collected. When measurements were taken for caps and gowns, the seniors began to suspect that some big event was approaching. Groundhog's Day passed; St. Valentine's Day passed. Still there was no sign of the big event. Then suddenly the important, exciting, long awaited day arrived. It was the twenty-ninth of February since 1952 was a leap year. With all such worries and problems taken care of, the roller coaster sped on and on into spring, through autograph day and the prom, even through the Senior Vesper Service and the senior banquet. Then all at once the roller coaster stopped, but the Class of 1952 catapulted right out into the world. All in one evening, Greenville's seventieth high school commencement had taken place, the Class of 1952 had become alumni, and "The Time of Our Lives" had become history.

The platform of the Hi-Y is "clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living," while the Tri-Hi-Y's is "self-improvement, Christian fellowship, and united service."

The Hi-Y enjoyed special speakers and programs and participated in activities and sports at their Wednesday night meetings. Twelve members represented the club at the Older Boys' Conference at Corry. The Father and Son Banquet and the Spring Formal were highlights of their social calendar.

Interesting talks by faculty members composed the program for several of the meetings of the Senior Tri-Hi-Y. Two special meetings of the club were a wiener roast at Pymatuning in the fall and a chili supper at the school later in the year.

The Junior Tri-Hi-Y had an educational program during the year led by special speakers. In January they sponsored a very successful dance uniquely titled, The Spinster's Spin. During football season the Junior-Senior Tri-Hi-Y float won honorable mention in Penn High's first Homecoming parade.

The Sophomore Tri-Hi-Y aided the Veterans of Foreign Wars in their annual poppy sale. They also sold tags for the 1951 Flood Relief and had charge of concessions at the Titusville basketball game.

This year all of the clubs took an active part in the rally at Sharon, and delegates from each of the Y's attended the district meeting at Farrell. A feature of the girls' program was the packing of Christmas baskets for the needy of our town. Two boys represented the Hi-Y in the Model Legislature held in Harrisburg. Each year the Y clubs sponsor the Teen Talk programs which extend over a period of seven weeks and are open to students in grades nine through twelve.

FOOTBALL HIGHLIGHTS

The lid-lifter of the 1951 football season pitted the Trojans of Greenville against the Mercer Mustangs at Stewart Field. After battling to find each other's weaknesses throughout the first quarter, the Trojans exploded for two touchdowns in the second period on runs by Doddo and Lineman. Early in the third quarter the Trojans marched 88 yards, with Lineman scoring on a 22-yard dash. Doddo then concluded the scoring for the evening in the fourth quarter on a two-yard plunge, as the Trojans won their fifteenth consecutive game at Stewart Field, 26-0. The boys appeared to be in excellent condition as the backs and line men performed magnificently.

The Trojans were "up" for their second game as they met their traditional rivals from Hickory at Stewart Field. Greenville wasted no time breaking into the scoring column as Wilt and Lineman hit pay dirt in the first quarter. Wilt scored again in the second period on a seven-yard run. Doddo and Branch kept the Trojan attack moving in the third quarter with a touchdown apiece. Near the end of the third quarter Hickory scored on a long pass. Lineman topped off the massacre with another Penn High touchdown early in the fourth quarter as the Trojans won, 40-6.

The Trojans showed their undying spirit and will to win as they defeated Oil City, 12-7, at the Oilers' field. Oil City completely dominated the play throughout the first half but managed to push across only one TD. The second half was an entirely different story as the Trojans came to life after Butch Weyers recovered an Oiler fumble on the Greenville 24-yard line. Doddo then scored the first Trojan touchdown to cut the Oilers' lead to 7-6. In the fourth quarter Driscoll passed 27 yards to Wilt for Penn High's winning marker.

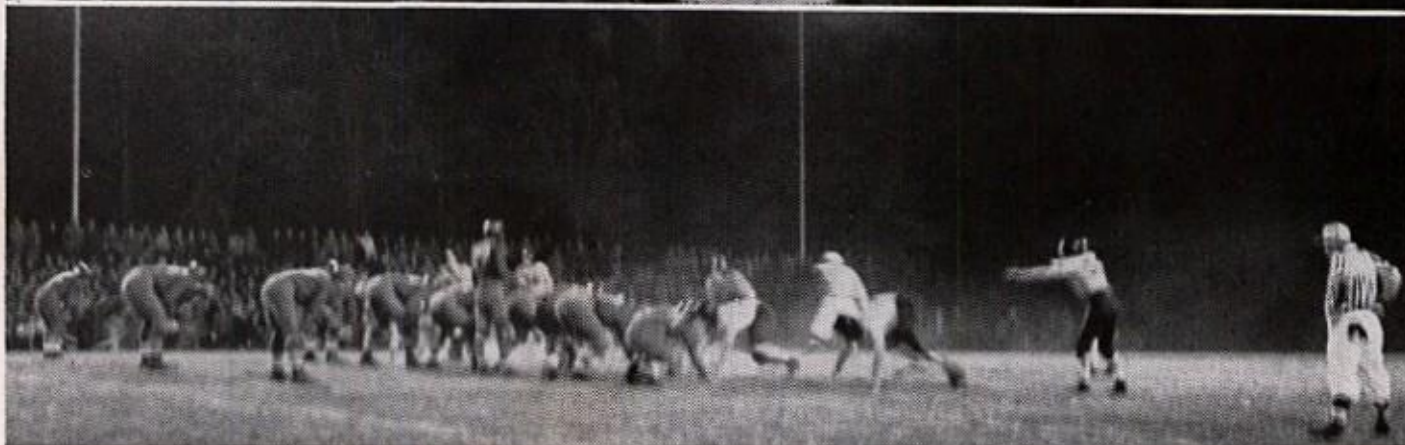

The Homecoming Queen and her attendants.

Excitement fills the air as Penn High elects to punt.

The powerful Trojans on a touchdown march.

With neither team able to supply a scoring punch, Greenville and Titusville battled to a scoreless tie at the Rockets' field. Greenville's most serious threat came in the final quarter when the Trojans marched to the Rocket twenty-two, but Titusville held for downs.

Unleashing a furious ground attack, the Trojans walloped Franklin, 37-14, for their third win of the year. Semroc started the Trojans on the scoring path as he tackled a Nurseryman behind the goal line for a safety. Driscoll added six points on a quarterback sneak. Lineman then dashed 51 yards for a TD. As the second half opened, the Trojans drove 80 yards with McCright going over to score. After a Franklin touchdown, McCright dashed 65 yards for his second touchdown, and early in the fourth period he tallied again. Then Franklin recovered a fumble and scored from the one-foot line as the clock ran out.

Expecting an easy victory, Greenville's Trojans met the Millcreek Trojans in Millcreek's Homecoming game. Greenville's only touchdown was set up early in the second period when Bob Mowery recovered a fumble on the Millcreek twenty-yard line. Doddo then scored the winning marker of the game.

Greenville's skein of sixteen consecutive victories on Stewart Field was broken as Grove City edged the Trojans, 7-0, in our Homecoming game. The Trojans threatened many times but could not supply the needed yardage for a touchdown. Midway in the fourth quarter, after the Eagles had driven to the Greenville seven-yard line, the Trojans made a heroic stand for three downs, but the Eagles tallied on a two-yard pass. A near-record crowd of four thousand people attended this game which was one of the hardest-fought of the season.

With "upset" highest in their minds, the Trojans journeyed to Farrell for their eighth game. After the Night Riders passed to an early lead, the Trojans drove to the Farrell ten-yard stripe where a Penn High pass was intercepted. Then Farrell marched to a touchdown. As the third quarter opened, the Trojans moved 69 yards to the Farrell four-yard line before the Night Riders could halt them. After an exchange of punts Farrell tallied, and late in the fourth period Farrell sewed up the game with another touchdown as they won, 26-0. Although the Trojans played well and threatened to score several times, the future W.P.I.A.L. Champions proved too strong an opponent.

For the final game of the season the Blue Devils from Sharpville braved the cold and snow to play a determined Trojan eleven at Stewart Field. Bill Kather blocked a punt on Sharpville's 36, and Lineman scored on a 24-yard sprint. In the second quarter, Bob Frye recovered a Blue Devil fumble, and Greenville chalked up another six points. After Sharpville retaliated with a score, Driscoll completely surprised the Blue Devils by throwing a pass to Johnny Piai that was good for a touchdown. Every member of the team saw action as the Trojans defeated Sharpville, 32-13.

Thus ended the 1951 football season and the high school football careers of ten seniors including Captain Ron Hyde whose able leadership inspired the team throughout the season. Much credit should go to Head Coach Ed Snyder and Line Coach Mel Berry for the fine team they produced.

BASKETBALL HIGHLIGHTS

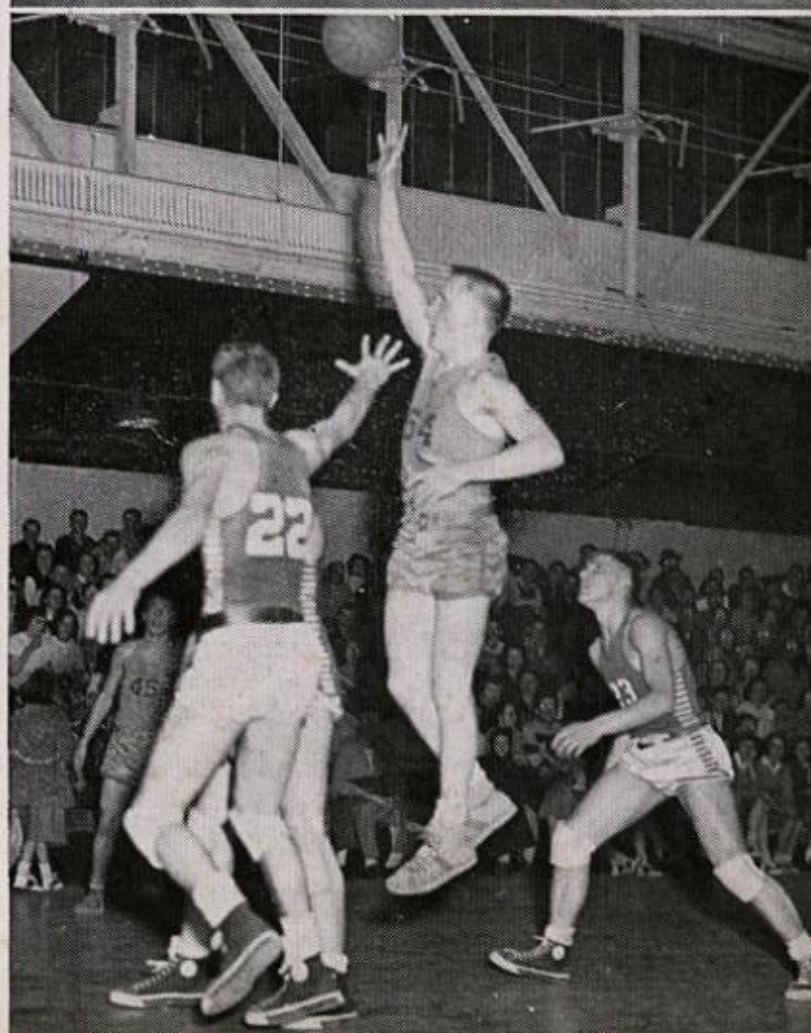

In the opening game of the 1951-52 season, Penn High played the Meadville Bulldogs in a torridly fought battle that will long be remembered by local basketball fans. After trailing throughout the contest, the Penn High dribblers forged ahead in the final second of the game on a foul shot by Sam Measel to win, 48-47. A tricky New Wilmington five played the Trojans in the second game. The game was tied, 25-25, at halftime, but the New Wilmington cagers took a 41-37 lead in the third quarter and then outlasted the Trojans' final-quarter spurt to win, 52-48.

With one win and one defeat under their belts, the Trojans traveled to Rocky Grove and won another close game, 50-49, on Mike Driscoll's foul shot in the final minute. Penn High won over Titusville, 57-46, for their third win of the year. After trailing, 14-7, at the first quarter mark, the Trojans forged ahead to stay. The next game was at Lawrence Park, and as in previous games Penn High trailed in the first quarter. However, the Trojans led by five points at halftime and coasted to a 49-39 victory.

Returning to Rissell Gym, the Penn High cagers took on the Fredonia Vocats. Lack of accuracy at the foul line spelled defeat for the Caulfieldmen as they lost, 46-42. Penn High got started on the right foot in the Mercer County Class A Basketball race by defeating a weak Grove City five, 68-36. The Trojans were never behind after the first minute of play. Penn High then continued its winning ways by defeating Lawrence Park by a decisive score of 69-34.

At Mercer the Trojans were on the receiving end of a beating. The Mercer quint led, 35-19, at halftime and kept pouring it on in the last half. Next, the Trojans played the Alumni in one of the most exciting games of the year. The grads led, 28-26, at the half, and the fray see-sawed back and forth all through the game. Finally, with the game tied in the closing seconds, Mark Hills dropped in a foul shot to win the fracas, 66-65. In the next game the Titusville Rockets won, 61-45, on their home floor to avenge an earlier defeat.

In the second Class A battle of the season the Trojans traveled to the Sharpsville court where disaster fell upon them. Sharpsville led, 40-17, at halftime and went on to hand the Men of Troy their worst setback of the season, 85-32. The Hickory Hornets then came to Greenville looking for their second Class A win, but the Trojans clipped the Hornets' wings, as they won their eighth game of the season, 61-56. Penn High's subs sparkled in the closing minutes when three of the starters fouled out of the game.

Jump Ball!!!

A revamped Trojan squad lay in wait for Mercer on the court at Rissell Gymnasium. Close calling by the officials brought the downfall of Penn High, as five players were evicted from the game on fouls. The Trojans played hard but came out on the short end of a 73-59 count. Penn High easily dropped Rocky Grove for the second time, as everyone on the team saw action in the 64-40 rout.

With a record of nine wins and six losses the Trojans played the Meadville Bulldogs at the latter's court. The revenge-minded Bulldogs pulled away from the Trojans in the second quarter and rolled on to win, 69-55. The Trojans upset an over-confident Brookfield five, 59-51, for their tenth win. Brookfield threatened many times throughout the game but could not supply the needed punch to push ahead.

The Trojans suffered their eighth loss of the season in the game with Fredonia. For three quarters the teams battled neck and neck, but the Vocats outscored the Caulfieldmen, 16-7, in the final period to win, 51-42. Traveling to Grove City for their fourth Class A battle of the season, the Trojans started a practically new line-up and won over the Eagles, 48-44. With this win Penn High notched the greatest number of triumphs since the 1946-47 season.

The Trojans strengthened their chances of tying Sharpville for the Mercer County Class A crown by defeating the Hickory Hornets for the second time this year. The first half was nip and tuck, but in the last half Penn High pulled away to win, 49-43. In the deciding game for the county Class A diadem, the Trojans played Sharpville. Greenville started out well, but the Blue Devils built up a five-point advantage by halftime and continued on their scoring ways in the last half to win, 55-33. In the season finale New Wilmington defeated the Trojans, 51-47, in a close game. However, Penn High finished the '51-'52 season with a record of 12 wins and 10 losses, the best in recent years.

WRESTLING HIGHLIGHTS

In the opening match of the season, the Trojans overwhelmed Erie Strong Vincent, 39-5. The first Trojan pins of the season were recorded by Tom Seiple, Neal Lineman, Joe Savchuk, and Ron Hyde. Greenville suffered a severe setback in the second match. A record crowd jammed the Penn High gym to see the highly-touted Clearfield team defeat the Trojans, 31-9, and end a string of 23 consecutive victories. Many individual winning streaks were broken, the most outstanding being Rich Guerrini's. It was his first setback in twenty-eight consecutive matches in dual competition. Tom Seiple, Jim Conn, and Dick Donnell copped decisions to give Greenville nine points.

The Trojans again hit their winning stride in the match with Erie Academy. Six pins and four decisions rolled up the 43 to 3 score. The next victim to fall at the hands of the Berrymen was Titusville, by a 38-9 count. Five pins—by Tom Seiple, Rich Guerrini, Jim Conn, Larry Cramer, and Ron Hyde—highlighted the match. Lloyd Sherbondy, Dick Sherbondy, Neal Lineman, and Chuck Semroc added twelve points by decisions.

Penn High continued on its "pinning" ways by easily downing Oil City, 41-7. Rich Guerrini, Dick Sherbondy, Glen Vosler, Neal Lineman, and Jim Conn chalked up pins. The Trojans then traveled to Grove City where they defeated their traditional rival, 32-11. Tom Seiple, Lloyd Sherbondy, Rich Guerrini, and Dick Donnell pinned their men to give Greenville twenty points. Dick Sherbondy, Neal Lineman, Larry Cramer, and Don Eakman added twelve points to raise the score to thirty-two.

Using several inexperienced grapplers, the Trojans defeated East Liverpool, 22-14. With the score tied at eleven-all, Dick Donnell shoved the Trojans ahead with a pin. Joe Savchuk and Ron Hyde clinched the victory with decisions. Titusville was again defeated by the Trojans, who made a clean sweep of the series and extended their winning streak to six in a row and seven for the season. Four pins were recorded by the Trojans as Tom Seiple, Rich Guerrini, Jim Conn, and Ron Hyde threw their men. In the second match with Oil City the Greenville matmen scored twenty-one points on pins and nine points by decision, to win, 30-15.

Penn High wound up the regular season in grand style as they walloped Grove City, 46-5. Seven out of eleven matches were won by falls and three by decisions. Tom Seiple pinned his opponent in one minute and twenty seconds of the first period, but the fastest fall was awarded to Ron Hyde who pinned his man in 57 seconds of the first period. Lloyd Sherbondy, Dick Sherbondy, Dick Donnell, Larry Cramer, and Joe Savchuk also won by pins. Rich Guerrini, Neal Lineman, and Chuck Semroc took their opponents by decisions.

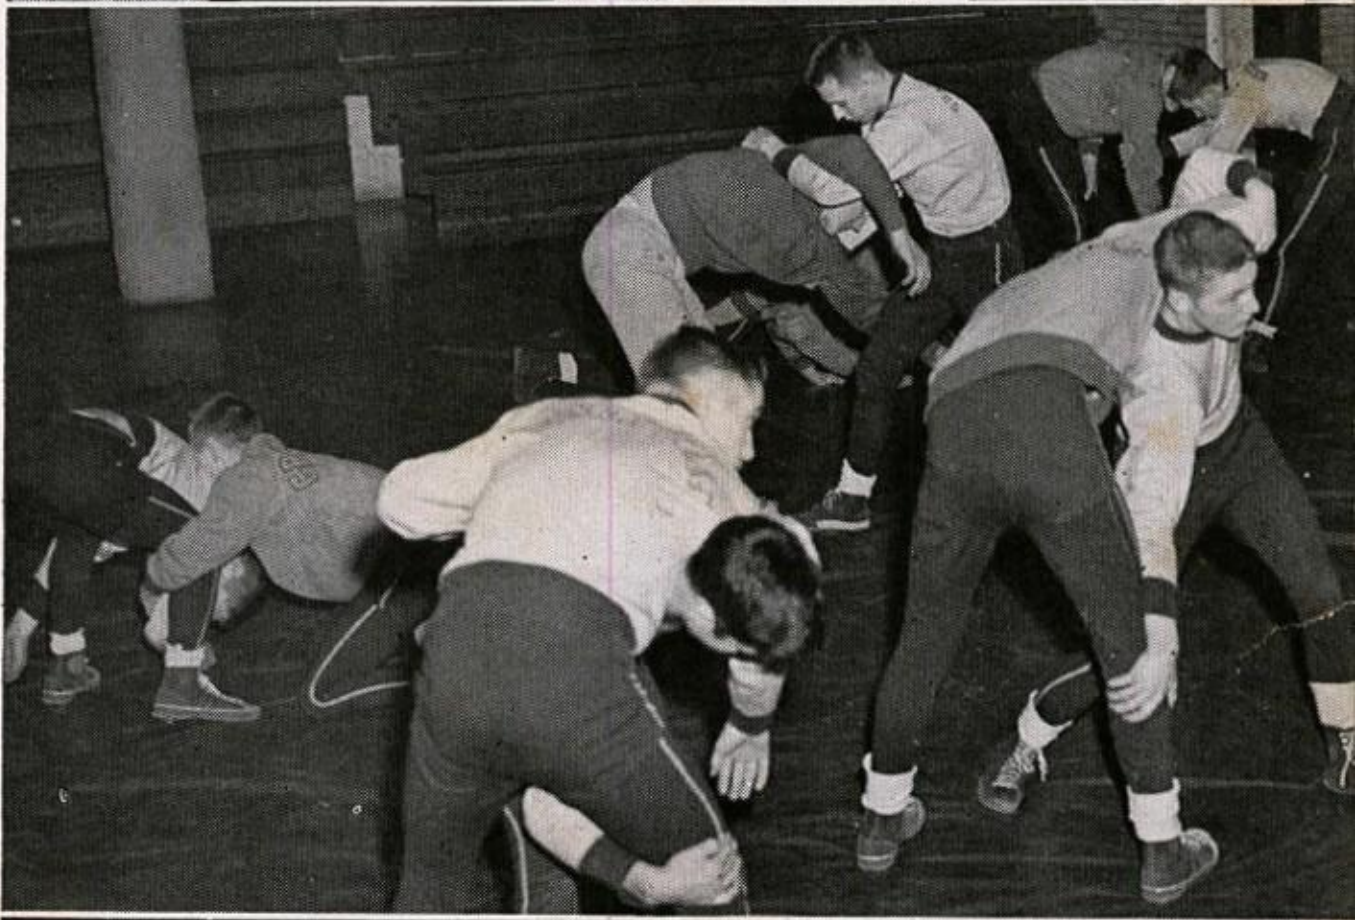

Six wrestlers brought fame to Penn High again by winning the third straight District 10 Championship. The six winners, the largest number of representatives from any school, were Tom Seiple, 95 lb.; Rich Guerrini, 112 lb.; Dick Sherbondy, 120 lb.; Neal Lineman, 133 lb.; Larry Cramer, 145 lb.; Ron Hyde, 185 lb. Five of the District Champs traveled to Clearfield for a crack at the Regionals. Because of a rib injury, Ron Hyde forfeited his chance at these matches. Tom Seiple, Rich Guerrini, Dick Sherbondy, and Neal Lineman made it to the finals, but Tom Seiple was the only grappler to win a regional championship. He then went on to represent Penn High in the State matches at State College where he became Penn High's first state champion.

Since returning to Penn High six years ago, Coach Mel Berry has compiled an outstanding record of achievements with his wrestling teams. They have won 47 out of 54 team matches, including one string of 23 consecutive wins, and have gone through two seasons undefeated. Penn High has held the District 10 Championship for the last three years. Under the leadership of Coach Berry, wrestling has become one of the most popular sports in Penn High.

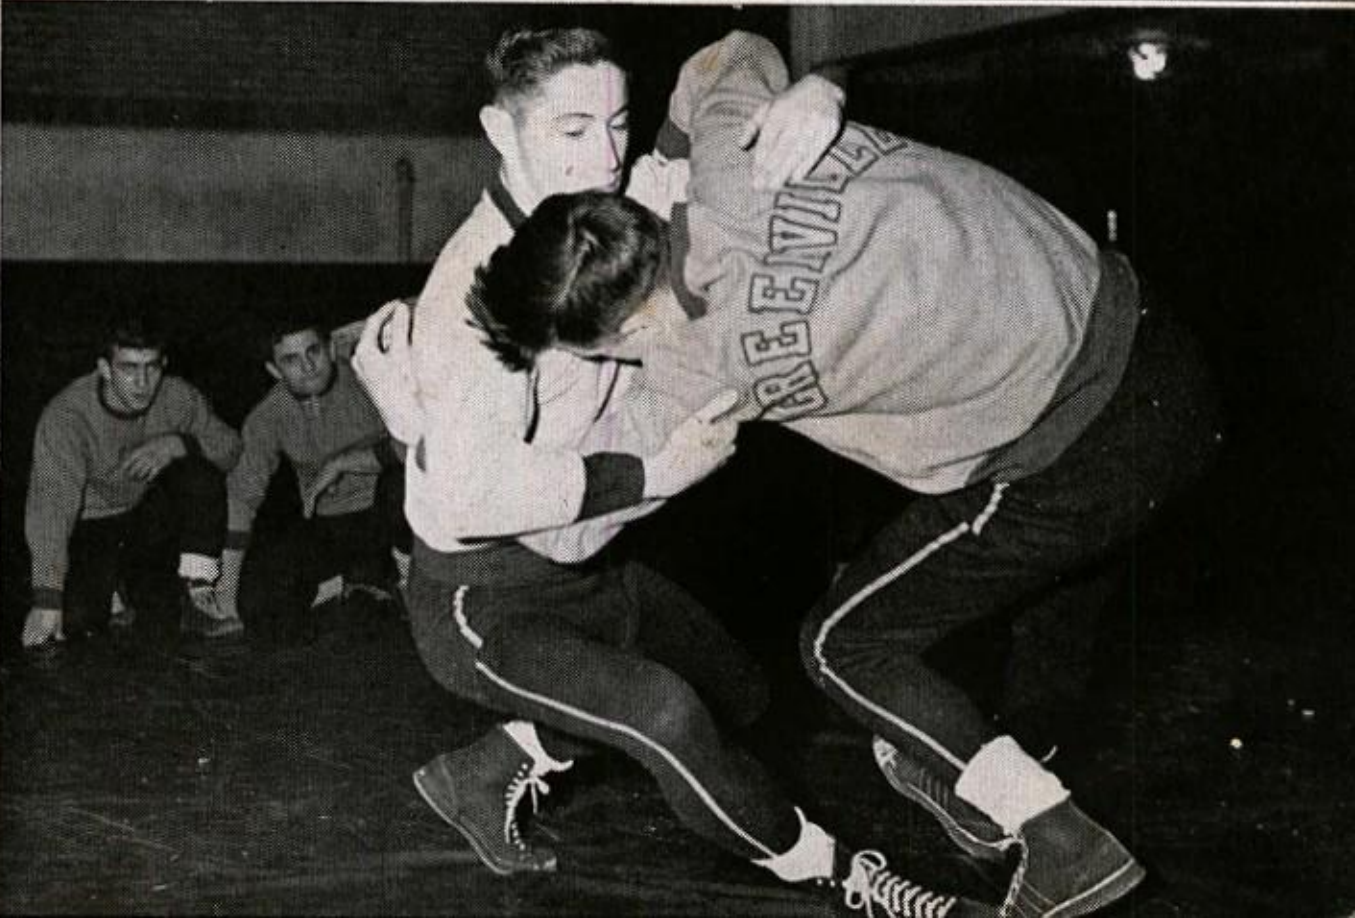

Coach Berry and Captain Lineman are discussing the chart on which the wrestlers record their weights before and after each practice.

The grapplers undergo a rigid training program including dieting, running in the halls at noon, and strenuous work-outs in the gym.

Dick Sherbondy and Glen Vosler are demonstrating a take-down. A good wrestler must learn to execute a great number of holds.

The first call to baseball aspirants was given on April ninth. Hampered by rain and cold weather, the team could practice only three days before jumping into a full schedule of fourteen games. Coach Stewart, trying to hit upon a winning combination, fielded two different teams. Although the teams played heads-up ball, lack of practice was evident as the season progressed. The close of the season disclosed an average record as Penn High's pastimers won six games and lost eight.

13. I like it!! I like it!! 14. Such a nice profile.

As we seniors leave Penn High the night of graduation, a chapter in our lives will end. At that time our status in the community and the world will change. On us will rest, as we hear spoken freely, the fate of "the world and all humanity." More important and sensible is this: squarely on our shoulders will rest the burden of responsibility to ourselves and to each other for our actions. We can be advised, warned, admonished and guided, but no one can help us unless we help ourselves. If we choose to take counsel with others, to strive for perfection in our work, and to demand competency in our associates and leaders, we can assure ourselves of free and comfortable living in a well-managed world. If we all manage our personal lives well, we need to worry little about the responsibility of the wide, wide world being on our shoulders.
